and crying and pain will be no more, for the first things have passed away.'

And the one who was seated on the throne said, 'See, I am making all things new.' Also, he said, 'Write this, for these words are trustworthy and true.' Then he said to me, 'It is done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. To the thirsty I will give water as a gift from the spring of the water of life.'

JOHN 11.32-44

When Mary came where Jesus was and saw him, she knelt at his feet and said to him, 'Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.' When Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who came with her also weeping, he was greatly disturbed in spirit and deeply moved. He said, 'Where have you laid him?' They said to him, 'Lord, come and see.' Jesus began to weep. So, the Jews said, 'See how he loved him!' But some of them said, 'Could not he who opened the eyes of the blind man have kept this man from dying?'

Then Jesus, again greatly disturbed, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone was lying against it. Jesus said, 'Take away the stone.' Martha, the sister of the dead man, said to him, 'Lord, already there is a stench because he has been dead for four days.' Jesus said to her, 'Did I not tell you that if you believed, you would see the glory of God?' So, they took away the stone. And Jesus looked upwards and said, 'Father, I thank you for having heard me. I knew that you always hear me, but I have said this for the sake of the crowd standing here, so that they may believe that you sent me.' When he had said this, he cried with a loud voice, 'Lazarus, come out!' The dead man came out, his hands and feet bound with strips of cloth, and his face wrapped in a cloth. Jesus said to them, 'Unbind him, and let him go.'

ST PETER'S WELCOMES PROFESSOR ELAINE GRAHAM
& PROFESSOR ANDREW BRADSTOCK

ELAINE, currently at Chester University, is a practical theologian, interested in the relationship between beliefs and actions, and whether religious commitment really makes a difference in today's world. In her teaching and research, she encourages people to connect the values of faith to a critical engagement with the dilemmas of everyday life.

ANDREW, currently at Winchester University, is both a practitioner and student of faith-based social action. In addition to holding academic posts in the UK and New Zealand he has worked for religious organisations and research centres committed to social and political engagement.

Today's dialogue sermon will be thought provoking and no doubt stir up much debate.

Therefore, after the service, Ian, Elaine and Andrew would be extremely pleased if with your cups of tea in hand, as many of you could stay on and continue an open debate with them! All are very welcome!

YOUR PRAYERS ARE ASKED FOR:

St Augustin:

St. Stephen:

Angela Anderson, Buntly Ross, Christopher Rowland, Jane Delahunty, John Dennis R.I.P., Lesley Murgatroyd, Marion Dennis, Sheila Sturgess

St Peter:

Brenda Dickerson, Brenda Ginever, David Friel, Elizabeth Bennett, Geoff Halstead, Matthew Simms, Rosemary Miles, Susan Haynes, Toby Wilcox, Val Spence, Vangjiel Gorreju

Please also pray at this time of Remembrance for Mary Shelley, Percy Bysshe Shelley, and for her parents Mary Wollstonecraft and William Goodwin. As, in this past week, we have celebrated Mary Shelley's major work, 'Frankenstein', we realise that it has much potency as a modern metaphor to enable us all to explore the depths and complexities of our humanity, so we also remember that she and her family were frail human beings, as are we all, and we continue to pray for them, that they may rest in peace and rise in glory.

COLLECT

Almighty God, you have knit together your elect in one communion and fellowship in the mystical body of your Son Christ our Lord: grant us grace so to follow your blessed saints in all virtuous and godly living that we may come to those inexpressible joys that you have prepared for those who truly love you; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen

WISDOM 3.1-9

But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and no torment will ever touch them. In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died, and their departure was thought to be a disaster and their going from us to be their destruction; but they are at peace. For though in the sight of others they were punished, their hope is full of immortality. Having been disciplined a little, they will receive great good, because God tested them and found them worthy of himself; like gold in the furnace he tried them and like a sacrificial burnt offering he accepted them. In the time of their visitation they will shine forth and will run like sparks through the stubble. They will govern nations and rule over people and the Lord will reign over them for ever. Those who trust in him will understand truth and the faithful will abide with him in love, because grace and mercy are upon his holy ones and he watches over his elect.

REVELATION 21.1-6A

Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and the sea was no more. And I saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying,

'See, the home of God is among mortals. He will dwell with them; they will be his peoples and God himself will be with them; he will wipe every tear from their eyes. Death will be no more; mourning
